

Top Age Group Performances in the 2013 Ironman World Championship Season

Notes

Tables are compiled with results available in the Ironman.com athlete tracker for all full Ironman distance races that may qualify for the 2013 Ironman World Championship (including the 2012 race in Kona).

Where possible errors in name, category or splits have been corrected by hand. However errors may still be present.

Results are listed in order of speed without consideration for race course. Variations in race course and conditions mean caution should be applied when comparing splits from different events.

The results from Ironman Melbourne 2013 are included in these tables. Due in part to a shortened swim its finish times dominate these results tables. A version excluding Ironman Melbourne's results is also available.

Red rows indicate an athlete identified as qualifying for the 2013 Ironman World Championship. The row may not be their qualifying race, but it will be one of the fastest performances of the 2013 qualifying season.

Some qualifying athletes, including those who qualified at Ironman 70.3 events or via the lottery or legacy programmes, may not have been identified in these lists.
